

Symposium organised by the Health Law Institute and the LEMM on October 17th, 2006: “Counterfeiting Medicine, let’s talk about it!”

The counterfeiting of medicine is a topical theme. It is a preoccupying scourge. The fight against it is high priority for the public authorities, who have decided to tackle it with the help of businesses.

But what are this phenomenon’s reality and scale? Where does it take place? Is France concerned? Where do the products come from? How can we recognize them? Which actions can be instigated to fight against medicine counterfeiting?

This symposium is organised with the LEMM and the Health and Law Institute during “week of medicine”, with the participation of the players in the field of medicine as well as public authorities. The objective will be to expose the issues for the pharmaceutical companies.

Program:

Introduction

By B. Fauran

What is medicine counterfeiting?

By A-P. Vlasto

Law and procedure

By J. Passa

What is the level of alert in the world?

By Y. Juillet

Is it necessary to forbid selling medicine on the internet in order to preserve public health?

By J. Peigné and I. Adenot

Round table: fight against medicine counterfeiting: how?

Directed by Y. Juillet

With the participation of:

M. Vounatsos;

B. Rivals;

J-M. Bobée ;

S. Le Ny ;

S. Lange ;

M. Guth ;

C. Couté ;

M. Fournier.

Conclusion

By A. Laude